NOW YOU KNOW!

April 18 is National Animal Crackers Day, and to celebrate we've dug up some tasty tidbits about these bite-sized snack beasts...

THE ANIMAL CRACKER WAS BORN IN ENGLAND. As early as the 1800s, animal-shaped cookies (or "biscuits" as they're known in the U.K.) were being devoured across the pond.

THERE ARE MANY MANUFACTURERS OF THE COOKIES... Stauffer Biscuit Company was the first in 1871, and they've been using the same recipe for their version since the turn of the 20th century.

...BUT NABISCO'S "BARNUM'S" REMAINS THE MOST POPULAR. The circus-themed crackers were the first to be sold in a small, snack-size package. Before then, all crackers were sold in bulk from a barrel, which is where the term "cracker barrel" comes from.

THERE HAVE BEEN 54 ANIMALS REIMAGINED AS CRACKERS. Nabisco can claim to have developed the most animals of any brand with 37 different creatures over the years.

THE MONKEY HAS BEEN THE ONLY ANIMAL TO WEAR CLOTHES. No one has been able to sort out why, exactly, the monkey appears in a pair of pants while all the other animals are au naturel.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE SANG (INCORRECTLY) ABOUT THE CRACKERS.

In the 1935 movie "Curly Top", child actress Shirley Temple performed the ditty "Animal Crackers in My Soup." In it, she sings the lyric "monkeys & rabbits loop the loop," but rabbits have never been among the furry friends included in packages of animal crackers... at least not those in Nabisco's Barnum's!

Are you looking for an excuse to get out of doing housework? Well, here it is...

On April 7th, do absolutely no sweeping, dusting, folding, ironing or any of the other tasks that fall into the housework category. Doctors and health experts agree that it is essential for people with busy lifestyles to factor in time to relax. Relaxation can lower heart rate and blood pressure, reduce headaches, and improve concentration. So celebrate "National No Housework Day" by ignoring the dirty dishes in the sink and the piles of laundry that need to be done and just relax. You deserve it!
